

Minutes of the January 17, 2023 EVQG Meeting

The meeting was called to order by president Kathy Hill. Guests and new members were introduced. She announced that there would not be door prizes since there would be prizes awarded during the games.

Jan Shepherd, updated members on several activities. Creative Stitchery on Saturday is Beginning Quilting with Dora Dryden.

Tina Cline is doing a block of the month quilt. The first session will be at quilt camp this month and she will plan to hold a short session each month for each block. Dates and times for these will be announced.

Joy Smith would like those with Sunshine information to text her the details. There were several members this month with surgeries.

The Challenge Quilt information is on the website. The quilts are due in July and the theme is "Meet Me in the Garden"

For Community Service, we will continue to support Kitty Up Rescue as well as continue with Meals on Wheels.

The Senior Center on Zenith Drive recently had pipes to burst, resulting in having to throw away all crafting materials. They would appreciate donations on any kind of craft material, including but not only quilting materials.

The Mystery Quilt will begin later in the year.

Quilt Camp dates for the year are January 23-26, April 3-6, July 10-13, and October 2-5.

The February program will be delivered by Danielle Morgan, who will focus on art quilts. In March, Muriel Pfaff will do a lecture and show with a famous person theme. The rest of the year is already booked except for November.

Donna stated that she would like to form committee of several members to help with programs. That would share the work load and bring new ideas for program topics and speakers.

Kathy stated that the Blairsville quilt show will allow anyone to enter quilts. The show is September 22-23. She also has fliers for Quilt Expo in Atlanta in March.

There were 2 guests and 25 members present.

The program theme was Quilt Bingo following Show and Tell.
